Hello from RCTV!- Cold enough for ya?? Well then stay inside and check out some quality programming on your local channels from Randolph...RCTV! This winter you can see exciting High School Basketball action with Chuck Christian, some new and classic episodes of "Beneath The Elms" with Ken Simmons and Henry Cooke, and of course keep up with Randolph politics with our regular broadcasts of Randolph Selectmen Meetings and School Committee Meetings. So, even though the Holiday Season is over, you can still find something to do between sledding trips and runny noses. Read on

A Fun Year for High School Football- If you watched RCTV Channel 22 over the last several months, you had to catch some of the great football action we brought home to our viewers. The Randolph High School Blue Devils gave us some terrific games, and our volunteer crew gave our viewers some wonderful shots and commentary. Our announcers, Larry Azer, Chuck Christian, and Brian Howard really added some color to the games. Chuck Christian worked in great photographs of players and even covered a few of the away games for our viewers. Special thanks to our crew of volunteers that helped with the football season: Paul Duddy, Jr., Sheila Swanwick, Eric Gladstone, Alex Phillips, and Eric Estremera.

Blue Devils Basketball- The "Voice of Randolph Basketball," RCTV volunteer Chuck Christian, has been bringing fans Randolph High School Boys Varsity and Junior Varsity Basketball on RCTV Channel 22. Chuck is in his element as he commentates and works the camera for almost every game of the season. Along with his wife (and statistician) LaDonna Christian, guest announcers, and a crew of assistants, Chuck really brings the excitement of High School Basketball home to our viewers. We hope you've been enjoying the coverage!

New Equipment at RCTV- You may notice some exciting changes on RCTV's channels (8, 10, & 22). RCTV has recently purchased some brand new, state of the art equipment that will begin implementing during the next several months. Probably the most noticeable change will be our new Bulleting Board system. No longer will viewers be subjected to dull colors and graphics that look over a decade old. Our new system will showcase beautiful graphics and photographs of the Town of Randolph and a new feature...daily weather reports! It will be a totally new look for our channels and we're very excited! In addition, we have purchased a new Sony camera system for both the RCTV studio and on-location shoots. After much research we have agreed on a camera system that will give our viewers better images than they have ever seen on their local channels. Other exciting purchases include a Panasonic DVD recorder, beautiful Sony color monitors, and replacement tripod heads, which I'm sure our volunteers are pleased to hear about. Keep an eye on RCTV over the next several months as we implement this new equipment. It has been a long wait, but we are extremely excited about these giant steps forward to continue to bring Randolph residents fine local television programming.
