Randolph Election

Hello from RCTV! We hope you had a wonderful holiday season! Did you catch all the great programming we've been bringing you? Our programming schedule was filled to the brim with holiday concerts, "Beneath the Elms," "Wandering Randolph," and more. If you think 2004 had some great programming, keep watching because 2005 promises to be quite an exciting year for Randolph Community Television. We are putting the final touches on our studio and are gearing up for new volunteers, new shows and of course our continuing coverage of Randolph's many town events.

Blue Devils Basketball- Once again, the "Voice of Randolph Basketball," Chuck Christian, is bringing Randolph High School Basketball coverage to RCTV viewers. Chuck has really become the sports guy at RCTV, lending his insight to RCTV's Randolph High School football coverage as well. Chuck will bring as many games to Channel 22 as he can this season working behind the camera as well as announcing. Along with Ladonna Christian, his statistician (and wife), Chuck works hard to bring you entertaining, informative and comprehensive basketball coverage... Turn on and tune in!

Randolph Town Election- Randolph is getting ready for its Annual Town Election and RCTV will be there. RCTV covers several forums and debates for the contested offices in town which culminates in our live coverage of the election results from town hall. An insightful interview with the Randolph Town Clerk, Brian Howard, has always been an informative way to kick off the election night coverage. Tune in to "Randolph Election 2005" on RCTV Channel 10 on Tuesday, April 5th at 8:00pm.

THANK YOU, VOLUNTEERS!!!

RCTV would like to thank the following volunteers for their time and effort in creating our many fantastic programs:

LARRY AZER, CHUCK CHRISTIAN, HENRY COOKE IV, JEAN DUDDY, PAUL DUDDY, JR., PAUL DUDDY, SR., LEAH FELLMAN, REBEKAH FELLMAN, ERIC GLADSTONE, BRIAN HOWARD, EDDY JULES, DOUG KRABBENHOFT, ALEX PHILLIPS, KEN SIMMONS, & SHEILA SWANWICK.

We look forward to another great year!

A Call for Volunteers- Have you ever wondered what its like to work in television? Are you interested in contributing to your community? Ever wonder how camera equipment works? Well, wait no further... RCTV is offering our FREE Volunteer Workshop Series this February. This is your opportunity to become involved with Randolph Community Television, its staff, and wonderful volunteers! This introductory workshop will familiarize you with television cameras, camcorders, working with directors, and what it means to be a volunteer at RCTV. The Workshop Series will consist of three nights, with an emphasis of basic television production. Mark your calendars for February 2, 9, & 16 at 7:00pm at the Randolph Community Television Studio. Volunteer workshops are open to Randolph residents. You must pre-register with one of our staff by calling (781) 961-7228. We hope to welcome a new, enthusiastic bunch... see you there!

Bulletin Board Announcements- Randolph Community Television can promote your event on the local television electronic bulletin board. All messages must be for non-profit organizations or community events pertaining to the Town of Randolph. Please provide the name, date and time of the event. Also, include a contact person and phone number and any other pertinent information. Submissions are FREE and can be sent via mail, fax or email (no announcements will be taken by phone). Email your announcement to: bb@RandolphCommunityTV.com.
