Hello from RCTV! Hey there Randolph, it's been a while since our last update and we have plenty to talk about. We hope you've been enjoying all the programming we've been bringing you... Holiday concerts, "Beneath The Elms," "Wandering Randolph," and of course our coverage of municipal meetings and town events. RCTV takes pride in the fact that we can bring our viewers the best of what Randolph has to offer and it will only get better. Our studio is up and running and we look forward to working with residents who would like to produce their own programs. It should be an exciting year so, keep tuning in!

"Wandering Randolph" - We hope you enjoyed the RCTV series "Wandering Randolph" and "Beneath the Elms" this past season. Hosts Ken Simmons and Henry Cooke IV have taken viewers around town and through history by visiting: The Randolph Nike Missile Site, Historic North Randolph, The Randolph Senior Center, Randolph's Five Oldest Businesses, Oakland Cemetery and more. Rest assured, a new season of fascinating tours is already in the works and production will begin again in the Spring.

"Randolph Live"

"Randolph Live" - Randolph Community Television welcomes its new community produced show "Randolph Live." Jerry Richman, of the Randolph Business Association, produces and hosts this live call-in show where viewers can voice their opinions and have questions answered by different guests. In the first two episodes, Jerry has welcomed guests Steve Toomey & Arthur Goldstein from the Randolph Finance Committee and former Randolph Executive Secretary, Paul Connors who answered questions from Mr. Richman and callers. Jerry Richman and his crew: George Reyna, Gordon George, William Flynn, Marvin George, Thomas LaBelle, Margaret Brennan, and Kathy Gabriel have been working hard to learn television production and this show promises to be entertaining and informative. Tune in Wednesday evenings at 7:30pm on RCTV Channel 8 to catch "Randolph Live."
